Painted Sparrows Sold In Cuba as Love Birds

It seems that English sparrows are being rung in on the love bird trade. That at least, is the experience of several distillusioned women passengers of the Hamburg-American liner Reliance, which docked here today after a West Indies cruise. To relieve the monotony of the return voyage to New York, one of the women hit on the idea of giving the pair of brilliant-hued love birds, which she had bought in Havana, a bath. As soon as the little creatures dipped into their miniature tub, the water turned a bright red, while the crests and breasts of the love birds changed from crimson to dull brown. Other women gave their birds a bath, too, only to find when the ab lutions were completed that they were owners of English sparrows for which they had paid $10 a pair. (Copyright, 1929.)

After the house had initiated a sequel to the governor's impeachment by voting a charge tonight against Charles W. Mason, chief justice of the State Supreme Court, who presided over Johnston's trial, the senate heard John L. Rice, one of its members, testify that Ed. M. Semans. Oklahome City, incur-Ed M. Semans, Oklahoma City insurance man, had attempted to influence his vote in the governor's case. After his removal, Johnston blamed the movement against him on Semans, who was his manager in the election campaign of 1926, and M. E. Trapp, former governor. Johnston broke with Semans soon after his inauguration. Senator Rice, who thus wielded the boomerang that—if justly directed—would impeach in some degree the integrity of the senate court, is a Johnston adherent. He voted for the governor's acquittal on the charge of in-competency which spelled his official

LOVE LETTERS SENT INMAN'S WIFE READ

Ardent Missives Allegedly Written by Actor Are Heard by Jury.

WILD PARTIES DESCRIBED

Reno, Nev., March 22 (A.P.) .- Ardent letters alleged to have been written to Helene Garnet Patton Inman by John Steele, the singer, were introduced today in the divorce suit of Walker P Inman, wealthy scion of an Atlanta, Ga., family, against his wife.

Ga., family, against his wife.

One letter asserted to have been penned by Steele included a statement that Mrs. Inman had inspired him in his singing. Others read into the record were poetical.

"Darling," said one of the missives, "this afternoon while singing there was a bad audience, so while out before the lights I thought of my baby's pretty face and knocked 'em cold."

A letter opening with: "Thou art the goddess of my dreams, the empress of my schemes," contained the following:

New York, March 22 (N.Y.W.N.S.) Tammany Hall once more in its hour of eed has turned to Alfred E. Smith. Unable to agree on a 'man from the ranks" for leader of Tammany Hall to succeed George W. Olvany, the Tamnany district leaders, after a session lasting for an hour and ten minutes at Tammany Hall, today capitulated and asked for help from former Gov. Smith and other men high in the councils of the Democratic party and of Tam-

"We thought that Ail Smith and the others had better be called in for the sake of harmony and other things.

Day of Bitter Battle.

What the "other things" were, Chairman Dooling would not specify, but it is a fact that today Tammany Hall passed through one of the worst and most bitterly fought in erleader "scraps" that it has experienced in years, and that the district leaders surrendered their ambitions to name one of their own number as leader of Tammany Hall only after the meeting had resulted in a vise-like deadlock.

Chairman Dooling said that this committee would meet on Monday at Tammany Hall to talk over ways and means of consulting the bigger men of the party. Since Gov. Smith starts on Monday for two weeks at the Seaview Club, near Atlantic City, and because of Holy Week, it is not likely that any definite action will be taken on the Tammany leadership for some vise-like deadlock. on the Tammany leadership for some

So bitter did the quarrel become that Surrogate Foley, one of the inner men in "the hall," today threw up his hands in disgust and served sharp notice on the district leaders that he would "have nothing further to do with them under the circumstances." Mellon Meets With Reserve Board as System Faces Severest Struggle.

VIEWS ARE CONTRASTING

(United Press.)

Possibility of a raise in Federal Re-erve rediscount rates was seen last night at the end of another skirmish in the Federal Reserve Board's attempt to curb the speculative fever of Wall

The skirmish yesterday was in the form of an extraordinary session of the Reserve Board, with Secretary of Treasury Mellon and Gov. George L. Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve Bank present to discuss the situation. The meeting was called after several warnings had failed.

There were indications that unless Wall street calls off the speculative rampage, a titanic battle may result, the first real encounter since the Reserve System was established in the Wilson administration to clip the wings of Wall street. The meeting yester-day appeared to have its effect in scaring the speculators, for both New York and Chicago markets reacted.

Statement Likely Soon.

None of the twelve Federal Reserve Board members would discuss the meeting. It was regarded as partly a psychological move, but with a can-vass of possible steps, including hiking up of rediscount rates. This may fol-low if the psychological effect of the meeting does not prove sufficient. The board may issue another statement on the general situation shortly.

The extraordinary session yesterday with Mellon and Harrison was prompt-ed by the revelation Thursday that loans to brokers for the past week had reached a new all-time peak of $5.-793,000,000, despite the Reserve Board's restrictive policy and its repeated warnings. This new record was $126,-000,000 higher than the previous high

The board's two-and-a-half hour meeting in the morning was followed in the afternoon by a two-hour round Young, of the board; Harrison, and in dividual members of the board. Might Sell U. S. Bonds.

The first warning of the board on February 7 against excessive specula-tion was followed by a gradual reduc-tion in the amount of brokers' loans Then last week's high peak was revealed Thursday. The trend of brokers loans is an index of stock market activ-ity. This sign of continued feverish speculation came on the heels of a warning by Gov. Young in a recent speech at Cincinnati that its final cost may be impairment of the Nation's ments of member banks. Throwing Government securities on the market would tend to take up cash which otherwise might go into the market, but there are not enough securities available to make much difference, it is understood. Raising of the rediscount rate would tend to increase interest rates generally, and thus make mone Chun, or red army, as the overthrow of imperialism and resistance to civilized exploitation.

"The United States of America is an imperialistic country which conspires imperialistic country which conspires in a low rate on money for ordinary commercial purposes and at the same time keep it high for speculative purposes.

Some Treasury officials, it is known are of the opinion that the Government can not do a great deal to curl ence with members of the board. Recently, a rift was indicated in this

Money for the present speculative wave is coming from security and guaranty corporations who are loaning their surplus for stock market trading.

Chicago Directors Silent. Chicago, March 22 (A.P.).-Directors of Chicago Federal Reserve Bank met and adjourned today without making any announcement of a boost in its rediscount rate. There had been widespread belief that the Chicago bank might take the first step in raising the rate, and even after the adjournment of the directors' meeting today without any announcement there were reports that action had been taken.

At the bank officials said there was no statement to make. The Herald and Examiner tomorrow will say that a $40,000,000 pool is being raised to offset the drastic forced calling of brokers' loans by local banks, acting under pressure from the Federal Reserve Board.

Ten million dollars of the pool will be available tomorrow, and the balance will be raised by Monday, the news-paper will state. The pool, it will say, is being raised by corporations whose being raised by corporations whose stocks are listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange, out of town banks and individuals. The raising of the pool was disclosed tonight, the Herald and Examiner will say, at a conference between prominent bankers and governors of the exchange behind closed doors.

"If aviation is to succeed," Welch declared in discussing the runways "planes must move on schedule just as regular as those of the railroads. It won't do to tell a passenger that the plane can't take off because the field is soggy. Nor will the passenger stand for a plane getting stuck in the mud or turning over because of the mud. In my opinion, all these problems are solved by these concrete runways."

The Ford airport consists of 719 acres of level turf, at one end of which is a 210 foot mooring mast, surmounted by a 2,000,000 candle power beacon light. Fringing the field are long, brickand steel hangars and the factory itself.
To accommodate passengers and visitors, there is a depot of handsome design and with all the comforts of a hotel. In the large hangar is the be-ginning of what some day will be a famous museum collection. Included in the exhibit is the Josephine Ford flown to the North Pole by Commander

GERMANS DIVIDED ON PAYMENT PLAN

One Group Fears Refusal to Accept Fund Will Place Blame on Country.

NOTHER FOR REJECTION

Berlin, March 22 (A.P.).-German public opinion, like Caesar's gaul, appears to be divided into three parts with reference-to work of the second Dawes committee at Paris and suggestion of allied delegates that German annuities in reparations payments begin with a sum of 1,750,000,000 marks (about $420,000,000). One group fears that if this figure is rejected Germany may have to assume responsibility for failure of the experts' conference. Some leading industrialists express the opinion that it is better to compromise than to face a continuance of the uncertainty which German economic life. Others argue that 1,750,000,000 marks is but the initial annuity, which must be greatly increased later. They there-fore urge Dr. Schacht, chief of the German delegation, to return once more to Paris in an effort to persuade his col-leagues that it is impossible to accept this figure, but warn him to be prepared to raise Germany's offer, if necessary, to a sum of 1,500,000,000.

In a semiofficial communique it is asserted that "any conversation Dr. Schacht might have during his stay in Berlin could be only of communicative and informative character." It is also pointed out that Germany from the be-ginning took the position that the ex-perts must act independently and uninstructed, and that therefore it is up to Dr. Schacht and his associates

The communique further warns the German public "to await information as to details concerning the alleged allied offer," reiterating that the only basis for a final solution of the reparations problem is Germany's capacity to pay.

Dr. Schacht today had conversations with Chancellor Mueller, Minister of Economics Curtius and Minister of Finance Hilferding, informing them of the present state of the reparations discussions in Paris. HUGHES SEES HOPE IN AMERICAN PACT

Says Efforts at Peace Are Meaningless Unless Machinery Is Set Up.

TALKS TO YALE GROUP

New Haven, Conn., March 22 (A.P.) Charles E. Hughes, speaking at Yale University tonight, said that signature of the Pan-American arbitration treaty by the United States was a demonstration, "heartily welcome" by other Republics of the western world, of this country's "sincerity in renouncing war as an instrument of national policy and in pledging itself to settlements by peaceful means."

The address was the first of two lec-tures Mr. Hughes is giving here on "Pan-American Peace Plans." Mr. Hughes, who was chairman of the sixth Pan-American congress at Havana, when the arbitration treaty was negotiated, said the pact recognized "that what might otherwise fall within the domestic jurisdiction exclusively may be brought into the international sphere through an international agreesphere through an international agree

"States are constantly making treaties," he continued, "removing causes of difference and establishing rights and obligations with respect to matters which are not governed by international law. But when the treaty or convention is entered into, and respectional rights and respectational rights and respectational rights. international rights and reciprocal international obligations are created, the interpretation of that treaty is not

PARIS THRONGS PASS BESIDE FOCH'S BIER

Coffin of Marshal Is Closed: Body to Be Removed to Arc Tomorrow.

SOLDIERS PLAN HONORS

Paris, March 22 (A.P.).-The family of Marshal Foch looked upon the great soldier's face for the last time today. Then his grateful country took charge of his body, which will be laid to rest in the Invalides on Tuesday alongside that of Napoleon.

This afternoon and evening the ople of Paris, rich and poor, young and old, stood for hours under a chilly drizzle for the privilege of passing through the mortuary chamber in the marshal's home where he lay in closed coffin covered by the rlag of France upon which rested a silver crucifix. zFrom midday until long after night had fallen and the great gates in front of the Foch home had been closed, thousands waited patiently on the sidewalks for their turn to pass the bier. They waited in silence and during the evening they waited in the rain, each to pay his modest homage to their great military leader. Will Move Coffin Tomorrow.

The thousands who took their farewell of Foch yesterday and the thousands who followed them through the crape-hung doors of his home today were but the forerunners of the tens and tens of thousands who will do him homage after his body is taken to the homage after his body is taken to the Arc de Triomphe on Sunday. Without any ceremony, the coffin will be taken from the home on Sunday morning and placed near the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. There, guarded by officers from his army headquarters, the coffin will rest for all to salue until Monday night, when the bier will be placed in the Cathedral of Notre Dame to awâit the solemn requiem mass which will usher in the national funeral on Tuesday.

All the regiments of France will send soldiers to escort the body from Notre Dame to its last resting place in the Invalides and there will be military delegations from among the men of other countries whom he commanded as supreme chief of the allied armies.

HOOVER MAY HELP FARM AID DRAFTERS

But President Declines to Present Definite Bill to Congress.

GRAY WANTS HIS VIEWS

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover is ready to cooper-ate with the congressional committees in the formulation of a farm relief bill, but he still feels that the presentation of a definite measure by himself would amount to an encroachment upon the prerogatives of Congress. This word emanated from the White House yesterday about the time the representatives of the American Farm Bureau Federation arriving here for the opening of farm relief hearings called for a presentation of the admin-istration's farm program to take the place of their old friend, the twice-vetoed McNary-Haugen bill. While Mr. Hoover will not propose an gricultural bill, it was made known at the White House that he feels his views and the Republican party's views on agricultural legislation were stated clearly in the last campaign, particular-ly by himself in his address at St.

Hyde Leaves Capital.

Meanwhile, Arthur M. Hyde, the new Secretary of Agriculture, notified the Senate agriculture committee yesterday that he was leaving the city and would be unable to meet its request for his appearance at the opening of hearings Monday. He said he had to return home to arrange some personal affairs. Congressional leaders have been hoping for a definite Hoover formula for farm relief. Learning that he would not undertake to draft a bill, they turned to Mr. Hyde and asked him to present the administration plan.

Chairman McNary, of the Senate agricultural committee, who issued the invitation to Secretary Hyde, expressed pleasure last night at the prospect of working extra present between Cona working arrangement between Congress and Mr. Yoover in the final formulation of the new farm bill.

Revolving Fund Likely.

So it is likely that this bill, calling for a Federal farm board with a $300,-000,000 revolving fund with which to assist cooperative marketing associations in the establishment of ma-chinery to control surplus crops, will be the basis of discussion at the com-mittee hearings starting next week. TRYING TO TRAP CALLES.

The Mexican campaign has taken a sudden turn by the rebel attack upon Mazatlan. The rebels are said to outnumber the defenders by about two to one. If the city should be captured it is probable that most of the vanquished would join the victors, as is customary in Mexico. The rebels have not executed the officers they have captured, while the government has invariably executed captured rebel leaders. Thus, whenever the rebels gain a local victory they usually add to their forces a large proportion of the rank and file of federals.

The storming of Mazatlan has forced Gen. Calles to divide his forces. He has ordered Gen. Cardenas to go to the relief of Mazatlan. It is reported that Cardenas has 6,000 men. As a march over the mountains from Torreon would require several weeks, it is assumed that Cardenas will use the railroad via Irapuato, a distance of about 1,000 miles. The rebels are within reach of a portion of this railroad and no doubt will try to destroy it.

The position of Calles would become precarious in case of a rebel advance in Sinaloa and Jalisco. Gen. Escobar is supposed to be holding Bachimba Pass, where he would have an advantageous position against an attack by Calles. The rebels hope to reach the railroad at Irapuato, and if successful they could cut off Calles' communications and supplies. But Cardenas stands in their way, and if he has as many men as is reported he can hold the railroad. The delay of the rebels in attacking Naco indicates that they are merely making a feint at that point, while rushing troops southward in an effort to outflank Calles.

Gen. Escobar's strategy is well calculated, and if his lieutenants in Sonora and Sinaloa can do their part he will defeat Calles. The rebels have possession of the Southern Pacific Railroad and can not be outflanked. The undisclosed factors are the number of men under arms and the amount of munitions. Both to be grossly exaggerating their own numbers and understating the number of men opposing them.

THE GRAND NATIONAL.

The Liverpool Grand National Steeplechase is one of the most celebrated handicap races in the world. Within the last few years it has attracted special attention from the American public on account of the many Americanowned horses that have competed in it, and of the many prominent Americans who cross the Atlantic each year just for the purpose of seeing it run. Admittedly, it is the hardest of all horse races to win. Its distance, officially described as "about 4 miles and 856 yards," and the 30 formidable obstacles that have to be encountered during the progress of the race, make it certain that none but a proved stayer and a finished jumper can have any pretensions to annex its valuable spoils, and that the best of jockeyship is requisite to guide a horse safely over such a course and to land him cleverly first past the winning post.

For this year's event the record entry of 121 was published in the Racing Calendar on January 3, and, as declaration of the minor forfeit was made for only 17 of these on January 22, it was surmised that a record number of contestants would come under the starter's orders on the day of the actual race in March. Such proved to be the case, for the huge, unprecedented field of 66 took part in yesterday's fateful contest. The fact that but ten of these completed the course is eloquent testimony to the difficulties it presents. The winner, Gregalach, the property of Mrs. M. A. Gemmell, started at the re munerative, if somewhat forlorn, odds of 100 to 1 against. He carried the fairly high weight of 158 pounds, while the second, Easter Hero, the property of the American, John Hay Whitney, carried top weight of 175 pounds, the only one in the handicap to which so huge an impost was allotted. The third, the 6year-old, Richmond II. carried 146 pounds. The honors of the race may fairly be said to belong to Easter Hero, which started favorite at 9 to 1 against and led the field until approaching the second last fence, when the weight and the soft condition of the track told their inevitable tale, and he was beaten by six lengths. The third horse, Richmond II, started at 40 to 1 against.

Easter Hero was the only American-owned horse that had anything to say to the finish. Billy Barton, the property of Howard Bruce, of Baltimore, on which high hopes were centered because of his being second in last year's race, had the misfortune to be struck into and knocked down by a riderless horse when was going well, and, although he was reunted and went on in pursuit, he fell at the canal turn fence and so extinguished his chance. Had he not met with the first accident, a different tale might have to be told.

The Grand National of 1929 is now history. id it adds one more chapter to the long tale of favorites beaten in the run home by iong-priced and apparently despised outsiders.

winner, as well as Old Joe, Wild Man from Borneo, The Soarer, and many others, that got home in front at Aintree at very long starting prices.

NEGLECT, AS USUAL.

The commission in charge of the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington has made a very poor showing up to date, although it was appointed in good time to prepare a comprehensive program. With the exception of promoting the boulevard to Mount Vernon, a worthy memorial, and lending itself to a bookselling scheme, the commission seems to be as far away as ever from a plan of action.

In the meantime the Wakefield Memorial Association is at work trying to raise the fund necessary to restore and beautify the birthplace of Washington. Is the Government to neglect Wakefield as it neglected Mount Vernon, leaving to patriotic volunteers the task of protecting those shrines? If so, the ceremonies in 1932, blazoning the Government's homage to George Washington, will be a hypocritical farce.

Congress has authorized the Wakefield Memorial Association to rebuild the birthplace of Washington on the original site. Plans for the building have been approved by the Commission on Fine Arts. But the authorities having jurisdiction over this matter have held up the work, so that the Government is placed in the position of obstructing the restoration of Washington's birthplace as well as failing to provide a program for observing his 200th birthday. Possibly the new Secre tary of War will correct this condition, however, when it is brought to his attention.

THE DISTRICT BUDGET.

Daniel J. Donovan, District of Columbia auditor, has undertaken to prepare a new budget on a five-year instead of an annual basis. Such items as the municipal center, the farmers' market, elimination of grade crossings, new bridges, incinerator, schools and the purchase of parks and playground sites will be considered and the program will be based on continuance of the $1.70 tax rate and an annual appropriation of not less than $9,000,000 from the Federal Government. The surplus deposited in the Federal Treasury, which will amount, it is estimated, to $7,000, 000 by 1930, also will be taken into consideration, but it is pointed out that a balance of at least $5,000,000 should be kept perpetually in reserve against future emergencies.

It is a splendid idea to put the District on a five-year budgetary basis. Unlike the functions of a Government department, the fundamental functions of the municipal government are fixed: they can not be curtailed no matter what financial emergency should develop. It would be the part of true economy to stabilize the District's financial affairs on a five-year basis, particularly in view of the fact that numerous major improvements are pending at the present time.

It would be a mistake, however, to fix permanently upon $9,000,000 as the Federal contribution. The $9,000,000 appropriation is too small. It is universally agreed that a lump sum method of making appropriations, no matter how large they may be, is inequitable and unjust. The budget, of course, need make no mention of how revenues are to be obtained, and the Commissioners should not commit themselves to the $9,000,000 lump sum appropriation. Sooner or later Congress will remove that stumbling block.

STATUARY HALL

Another statue-that of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin-has been added to that distinguished crowd of favorite sons in Statuary Hall in the Capitol. The marble host will no doubt welcome the new statue, but its hospitality must be strained almost to the breaking point. Statuary Hall now contains 57 marble effigies, and there is no longer room for any of them to exercise an awesome influence upon spectators. They are herded together like cattle in a corral. without any standard of size, color or material,

Under a law passed many years ago, each State is entitled to place two statues in this hall. When there was only a small number of statues in the room it was one of the most impressive chambers in the Capitol. Since it has been crowded with one statue in front of another it has lost its artistic charm and dignity. During the past fifteen months four new statues have been added, and officials have noticed that nine or ten more are to be contributed by the States in the near future. When the full coterie of 96 statues has been assembled there will be little more than enough room for visitors to pass through a

The problem is being studied by David Lynn, Architect of the Capitol, and Charles E. Fairman, art curator. Since there is no possibility of expanding the present hall, and there is no other satisfactory place in the Capitol where the statues could be assembled, the only feasible plan seems to be construction of a new statuary hall.

The Capitol probably draws more visitors than any other building in America, and the artistic tastes of the Nation are largely judged from its appearance. It is not surprising that American and foreign visitors join in ridiculing the present Statuary Hall. No art museum would tolerate such an arrangement, and there is no reason why the Government should

TOO MUCH SLEEP.

"The idea that we must spend one-third of our lives, 25 years out of a lifetime of 75, in sleep," says Dr. Robert Kingman, in the current issue of Plain Talk, "is so firmly intrenched in the human mind that it is next to impossible to drive it out. It is easier to revolutionize a man's diet, his philosophy, his manner of dress and his ideas of political economy than to convince him that good health is compatible with an allowance of less than eight hours sleep each night." Dr. Kingman asserts that eight hours' sleep is economically wasteful and some times physically harmful. 'Four hours of sleep," he says, "supplemented by four hours of rest, is quite enough for health and comfortable living."

Dr. Kingman makes a convincing argument, He points to the business man who comes home tired, not from lack of rest in bed, but from too much of the same thing, and who "rests" while he labors at his recreation or

Gregalach joins Tipperary Tim, last year's his hobby. The real purpose of sleep, in Dr. Kingman's opinion, is restoration of emotional or sensory tone, and the definite factor which causes most people to devote more time to sleep than they actually need is monotony. "Rabies and the mentally deficient." he ob serves, "need to sleep a great portion of the 24 hours because the paucity of their mental life quickly renders all stimult monotonous. It is no mere coincidence that men and women who habitually and without untoward consequences take a shorter night's rest than their fellows are men and women of unusual men tal power and wide range of interests."

The average person may not be pleased with he inference that his love of sleep indicates an inferior or stagnant mentality. Those who have found the 24 hours too short to encompass both work and pleasure, however, will velcome the suggestion that they can cut short their slumber without impairing efficiency or health.

SPECIALISTS ON THE JOB.

The rule of rotation among Army and Navy fficers has been very wisely suspended by President Hoover in cases where officers possessing special qualifications and experience are in the midst of important work. This work sometimes consists of extensive programs riginated by these officers. No other officer, nowever well qualified in general training, ossesses the experience and detailed knowldge of these programs necessary to carry them through to completion without making

In the constructive development of Army and Navy services the Government must take advantage of the special knowledge of highly trained officers if it is to benefit by modern cience. Their work is not in the routine class, and it would be a sacrifice of efficiency o place these officers in routine jobs while routine men were trying to learn the intricadies of highly technical creative problems. Mr. Hoover proposes to keep the specialists n the jobs for which they have been trained.

THE DOLLAR ABROAD

By DR. MAX WINKLER,

In Foreign Policy Association.

The amount of American capital invested broad in 1928 established a new high record. Although publicly offered issues show an apreciable decline as compared with 1927, the otal foreign financing effected here during he past year exceeded the figures for preeding years. As in previous compilations repared by the author, the 1928 study inludes the public sale of foreign securities in he American markets; the purchase by Americans of foreign internal issues, both stocks and bonds; the acquisition of foreign properties without involving the direct sale of securiies; and the extension to foreign borrowers advances or credits of not less than one ear's duration. We are thus lending abroad the rate of $2,000,000,000 a year and our reign investments are increasing at the anqual rate of about $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,-000.000.

In the course of the year the indirect purchase through the medium of investment trusts and investment companies of foreign have assumed an especially significant aspect. The fact that these items, together with so-called indirect foreign investments. are generally not included in similar compilations of American foreign investments accounts for the higher figure obtained by the writer.

There are many who remind us of the dangers of continuing to pile up investments in foreign countries. We must not lose sight the fact, however, that prior to the World War, Great Britain's foreign investments aggregated about $20,000,000,000; that those of France totaled about $10,000,000,000 and that those of Germany amounted to about $5.000.000.000. We should further recall that England's prewar investments abroad increased by about $900,000,000 a year, those France by about $400,000,000 and those Germany by about $300,000,000. Taking into account the changes in the purchasing power of the dollar which have taken place the last decade and a half, our foreign lending is not so alarmingly large as some people are inclined to believe.

The phrase "export of capital" if properly understood and sanely interpreted should occasion little if any criticism on the part of those who feel that "a dollar lent to Europe is a dollar lost to America." Our investing public who have been and still are purchasing foreign government, state, city and corporation obligations, receive securities in exchange for the capital which they supply. On the other hand, the foreign borrower does not ordinarily import American dollars. The credits which they obtain are usually employed in the purchase of raw materials or manufactured goods which they do not produce and which they use in the exploitation of their natural wealth. To be sure, money borrowed abroad is often diverted into other channels, such as the equipping of armies and navies. Such loans, however, should not be encouraged and it is incumbent upon the American banker or underwriter of foreign loans to see to it that funds supplied by American investors should as far as possible be employed productively. The loan which is used for productive purposes will benefit not only the borrower but the lender as well. America's total foreign investments reached at the end of 1928 $15,601,000,000, as compared with $14,500,000,000 at the end of 1927, and with $2,625,000,000 prior to the war. The present total, high though it may appear, is still about $4,000,000,000 below Great Britain's foreign investments in 1913. Our foreign investments are distributed as follows:

Europe $4.798.000.000 South America 2,513,000,000 Cuba, Mexico and West Indies) 2.954.000.000 Australasia 841,000,000 375,000,000

Government by Minorities. To the Editor of The Post-Sir: In that wonderful address at Gettysburg the immortal Lincoln, asked the living to resolve "that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth." Not threescore years have passed since he made that declaration, yet we of today are seeing a government by the people rapidly passing away. A government by the people presupposes that it shall be a government of the majority. Today it is the minority which rules in A large number of the members of

They are a small minority, yet the rule with a rod of iron. "You must do what we want, or you shall do nothing," they practically say to the majority, and, as a rule, what they want is deleterious to the good of the Government, and overthrowing the rights

There are a number of members in the House that were elected by a very small fraction of the actual voting population of their districts. In the Seventieth Congress more than 75 members were elected in districts casting less than 10,000 votes. These members were elected only by receiving a majority of less than 10,000. The 10,000 votes actually polled represented only a small fraction of the actual voters in the district.

We are no longer a government by the majority, hence not a government by the people. Under present conditions the men of Gettysburg gave their lives for a shadow.

LIFE INSURANCE.

Before the year 1929 ends, the insurance on American lives by American companies will aggregate $100,000,000,-000, says the Asheville (N. C.) Citizen. This means that the American people, numbering 6 per cent of the world's telligence, says the Kokomo Tribune. In entire population, carry more than 70 surance.

In 1918 the assets of our life insurance companies were nearly $6,500,000,000, but in 1927 they had inreased to $16,000,000,000. Those assets have doubled in the last seven years, and last year they were boosted by an increase of $1,600,000,000.

Group insurance, a new form of insurance, is taking hold with remarkable rapidity. It now covers 5,000,000 workers, a number that amounts to about one-eighth of the gainfully employed men and women of the entire United States. It totals about $7,500,-000,000, which is only $1,000,000,000 The joke that amuses the reader of less than all the life insurance that Overture to "Le Roi d'Ys," Lalo; excerpts from "Cydalise," Pierne; andante from "Symphony No. 1." Brahms; two old Flemish songs, De Greef; "The Swan." Saint-Saens, and "Beabdill," a Spanish dance by Moszkowski.

The overture to Edcuard Lalo's opera, "Le Roi d'Ys," is taken from a work dealing with a Breton legend. Two sisters, Rozenn and Margared, are in love with Prince Mylio, an invader. The with Prince Mylio, an invader. The prince loves Rozenn, and Margared floods the town by opening the lock gates, but the patron saint of the city, St. Corentin, accepts the sacrifice of the guilty girl, and the floods recede.

Pierne, the French composer, wrote a pagan opera, "Cydalise and Pan," an excerpt from which "The Entrance of the Little Fauns" is well known. Brahms' "Symphony No. 1" in C miwas 49. Moszkowski, although a Pole wrote well enough in the Spanish form, and his Spanish dances, originally for plano, are familiar to students of that Instrument.

The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra will be heard between 10 and 11 o'clock.

Strauss' "Blue Danube" and two scenes from the Nevin suite, "A Day in Venice," requested by the radio audience, will be played in the White House dinner music at 8:30 o'clock from WRC.

Lew White's own descriptive compoation, "The Storm," will be broadcast for the first time during the coast-to-coast broadcast .. a Lew White organized at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. White also includes Faure's "The Palms," an Easter song, and Richard Wagner's great picture of winged horses flying over storm clouds, "The Ride of the Valkyries." from his opera, "Die

Mildred Hunt, contralto, and a dance band directed by Frank Vagnoni will be heard in a half-hour program at 8:30 The Wardman Park Orchestra will dose WRC's broadcast.

Station WMAL will present a concert by the U. S. Army Band at 10:30 o'clock this evening, followed by a half hour with the Brunswick Saturday Nighters. The Everglades Orchestra will conclude the evening's broadcast.

Earlier in the evening, Phil Hayden and Limite Hayden (A. Cotton) and Jimmie Harbison, "A Cotton Picker," and Eveline Monico Papas, will appear before the microphone. The Swanee Syncopators are featured from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Station WOL has arranged for another hour of dance music at 10 o'clock.
A request program will be broadcast at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

How to Keep Well

SPRAYS FOR WINTER COUGHS.

IFTY-FIVE years ago Dr. Murrell advised persons who had winter coughs and bronchial asthma to use a pray of wine of ipecac diluted with twice its bulk of water. This was sprayed with a double bulb atomizer, as with a stream spray.

More than 40 years ago Dr. E. J. Kuh commenced using this method, modifying it in the light of his experience. In later years he has not used ipecac. Instead he uses a spray composed of 1 to 2 per cent menthol, ½ to 1 per cent camphor, in abolene or some other light mineral oil. Each inhalation uses somewhat less than I ounce. He uses it in certain cases of winter cough, hay fever, asthma and whooping cough. He does not use it in acute bronchitis th fever or, for that matter, in other febrile conditions. His recommenda-tion is that the sufferer see a physician; that fevers and acute conditions and unsuitable cases may be eliminated. If the case is found to be one to which it s suited, the physician uses the spray teaches the patient how to use it, and what to expect by way of reaction. Thereafter, the patient uses the spray self when he needs it, returning to his physician for observation as seems

The oily fluid is sprayed into the larger air passages and bronchial tubes by means of compressed air. -The long, curved tube of the atomizer is passed to the back part of the mouth above the tongue. The patient must be completely relaxed. He exhales fully just before the spray is started. While it is roing he breather quickly though is going he breathes quickly through the mouth. The oily fog disappears down the breathing tubes, causes no strangling or coughing while the spray-ing is kept up. At its conclusion there may be a few explosive coughs and then the airways seem to relax and calm

In some instances the spray is thrown e nose as well as through the Unless the sufferer can relax and breathe freely, deeply and quietly while being sprayed, nothing is accomplished. If they can so relax, they quiet down and fall into a peaceful aleep, if sleeping is in order. Since nervous children do not know how to relax and breathe a spray without strangling, the method seldom gives satisfactory results with them.

PEP AND WITHOUT PEP.

G. S. P. writes: Just what does a metabolism test show? I had a test taken and found I was minus fitteen. After taking a grain of thyroid every day for three months I had another test taken, and I was minus 32. Should I ignore that? If it indicates I am run down I would like to know it went into the manufacture of equipment in London, where he lived for five years, during which time he built the radio equipment for many of the great stations of Europe, includ-ing Eiffel Tower, returning to New York in 1920. He became consulting engineer of the All-American Cables and neer of the All-American Cables and Postal Telegraph Co. In 1923, he established a radio company in New York which has grown, according to the Interior Department, to be one of the four largest in the United States.

The cause of such a low rate is apt to be a lack of thyroid secretion. This condition in an adult is called myxedema.

Mr. Sawyer is 43 years old, having been born at Braceville, Ill. In 1911 he became construction engineer for the Federal Telgraph Co. of San Francisco. In 1912, he was loaned to the cisco. In 1912, he was loaned to the Universal Syndicate to construct a radio station at Newcastle, New Brunswick, which he afterward operated for the Canadian government.

Musicians in the United States receive more than a third of their in-come from radio, according to George Engles, director of the National Broad-casting and Concert Bureau, and also a leading manager in the concert field. He places the total spent on music in the United States at $30,000,000 for the last year, and says the broadcasting companies have contributed fully $11,-000,000 of that sum. These figures cover only performances in concert halls, opera houses and over the air and do not include what has been spent on recording devices "Radio expenditures have brought the national total for music up to the highest point in the country's history." Mr. Engles declares. "The most spent on music previously, exclusive of radio, has been about $20,000,000 a year. That amount covers both box-office receipts and subsidies of public-spirited citizens.

WHAT kind of sports and pleasures do they have in Europe?"
This question came from Alma Uphoff, who lives in a village in Saskatchewan. It is a short question, but a big one, too! I shall mention just a few of the "sports and pleasures" of Europe.

In Holland there is a great deal of skating on the canals, and skating is also practiced elsewhere in central and northern Europe.

Tobogganing in the Alps of Switzerland is famous—and certainly it is a lot of fun, for the Swiss often coast more than a mile.

Norway is famous for its use of skis. The men of Norway (and many of the women, too) learn to go over the hill and valley on skis. When there are contests in this country for ski jumps, you will notice that men with Scandinavian names are usually the leaders. (Speaking of skiing reminds me of how "Mary Elizabeth" wrote me some time back saying, "My heart jumps up to my throat when I go down a steep hill on skis!")

In Germany, men, women and childern go on hiking parties. They leave the cities during the week-ends and go far into the country.

Bicycles are very common in some countries of Europe—I saw many of them in Switzerland, Holland, France and England. In England there are countries of Europe—I saw many of them in Switzerland, Holland, France and England, In England there are country is a fixed to subs, and hundreds of persons and England. Mack was arrested as a suspect in the killing of Miss Josephine Odoriczzi, 20, last Sunday. Police said he admitted killing the girl with the help of a companion, who, the police said, he had not yet identified. Mack made his confession after a night of questioning, during which he changed his story many times. Finally he said he struck the girl over the head with a hatchet, which was found in his room, but that his companion killed her. his companion killed her.
The negro also admitted he and his

Annapolis, Md., March 22.—Of cighteen bills passed by the House of Delegates today, all of which originated in that body, several carry state-wide provisions, including the measure equalizing the pay of public accommittee to revise the election laws of the State. The House devoted considerable time to consideration of Anna Arundel County's million-dollar bond issue for public achool construction. Several amendments, including one providing for a referendum, were voted down, and the measure finally passed by a sponsored by George T. Cromwell, senatory for the whites. This pay bill was the only one of the group to which any definite opposition arose, but it was finally passed by a sponsored by George T. Cromwell, senatory for the complex of the state. The house approved the joint resocution authorizing the governor to appoint a committee to revise the election laws of the State. The House devoted considerable time to considerab

Moravian Police Guard Jews Against Pogrom

Prague, Czechoslovakia, March 22 (A.P.).—Police guarded residences and stores in the large Jewish colony at Boscowitz, Moravia, today as a precaution against possible pogroms growing out of a ritual murder scare. A part of the Christian population has charged the local rabbi with having charged the local rabbi with having killed his Christian servant girl for ritualistic purposes in connection with the approaching Passover festivals.

The rabbi himself swears the girl died of gas asphyxiation, but many of the incensed populace insist he killed her in order to use her blood in matzoths, or unleavened bread disks. Crowds of angry Christians stormed the rabbi's house, forcing him to seek protection of the police.

Long ago The Hecht Co. realized the part that national advertisers are playing in shaping the destiny of fashion. A new dress is created . . . simultaneously it is featured in the leading dailies and magazines. Smart women begin asking for it! And the store which features the dress . . . and other fashion-firsts . . . becomes the acknowledged fashion leader in that particular locality.

With this in mind we began gathering about us nationally known goods. Gradually we acquired the most famous makes. Now adding one . . . then another. Until, at this writing, we find ourselves with almost a local monopoly of the idea. Fashionable merchandise for Men... for Women .:. for Children. And at this Easter season we are prepared, better than ever before, to clothe in genuine fashion those people who purchase their Easter wearables here.

The Will to Do

What is the difference between men?

Put a list of questions to several men who occupy varying positions in life.

You will be surprised at the similarity of the answers.

Put these men in various situations which demand action and you will note little difference in the things they do.

Why, then, you ask, is one poor and one wealthy, one a criminal and the other respected by all?

Man can be what he wills. Not what he wishes if wishing stop at longing. But what he wills if he is ready to work for it.

You can't travel with the street corner gang and succeed.

You must dedicate your life to high purposes and seek every good influence which will bring you into contact with those whom you wish to emulate.

Save some money, establish credit, merit for yourself a name for honesty, fair dealing and general good character. You will get the sort of reputation you deserve.

Soon you will be as you willed to be. The Bible says that "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Nothing truer ever was written.

PRICES DIP SHARPLY IN NERVOUS MARKET

Suspense Over Higher Reserve Rates Causes Heavy Selling of Stocks.

FEW SPOTS ARE STRONG

New York, March 22 (A.P.) .- Continued suspense over the prospect of higher Federal Reserve rediscount rates became too much for the fraved nerves of speculators today, and prices dipped sharply on the stock market under heavy liquidation.

The failure of the New York Reserve

Bank to increase its rate yesterday prompted some bullish activity this morning, but with the Chicago Reserve lirectors' meeting in the afternoon, and the announcement that the Federal Reserve Board was meeting in Washington with Governor Harrison Washington with Governor Harrison of the New York Bank, nervousness became intense. s A particularly unsettling develop-ment was an announcement in the afternoon that E. A. Pierce & Co., one of the larger commission houses, would buy no more Chicago stocks on margin. Although the Chicago Reserve directors made no announcement after their meeting, this development was interpreted as indicating that credit contions in Chicago had become oroughly disquieting. The Chicago institution's reserve ratio has dropped considerably of late, and member bank

Further constructive developments in the oil curtailment program came to light, including the announcement that fir Henri Deterding, of the Royal Dutch shell interests, was on his way to New York to take part in the conversations. Chrysler Corporation announced 1928 earnings equal to $7.03 per share, in contrast to $6.55 on the lesser number of shares in 1927,

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, March 22 (AP.).—Openins advances on unfavorable weather reports and relatively firm Liverpool cables were dollowed by declines in cotton today under renewed realizing or liquidation, which appeared to be promoted by reports of an unsettled tone in the stock market, apprehensions of an advance in rediscount rates and weakness in grain. May contracts sold off from 21.15 to 20.77 and closed at 20.81. The general market closed steady at net declines of 18 to 30 points.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points. Active months showed net advances of 10 to 18 points in the early trading on firmness of the English market, reports that spinners, of American cotton in Lancashire had voted down the short time proposal and unfavorable weather advices from the South.

The advance was checked by realizing and mear month liquidation. March notices were reported representing several thousand bn.es. March eased off to 21.04 during the morning. or about 5 points net lower. Trading lat that position ended at midday, the last sale reported being at 21.12.

The general market, which had been rather unsettled by the near-month weakness, stiffened up a few points during the middle of the day. The buluw met increased selling, accompanied by rumors of an official statement regarding coming crop prospects, which were denied. The early afternoon break was followed by moderate values. Prices weakned again in the later trading under renewed liquidation. The lowest levels of the day were reached shortly before the close, when May sold at 20.77 and the new October contract at 20.12, or about 20 to 30 points below yesterday's close.

Fart of the selling was attributed to a feeling that present prices would have a sendency to encourage increased planting, providing weather conditions were should not make the private cables reported covering and covering to steady prices, but closing quotations were within 2 or 4 points of the lowest.

Wall Street Briefs New York, March 22 (A.P.).-Inter esting disclosures concerning gold transfers are contained in the weekly statement of the New York Federal Re-serve Bank. Germany's recent ship-ment of $7,960,000 gold here canceled foreign loans on gold of $7,652,000. At the same time, according to London dispatches, the German Reichsbank bought $5,000,000 in gold held ear-marked for the Bank of France in New York, and paid for it by shipment of a corresponding amount of yellow metal from Berlin to Paris, thereby saving

Selling was particularly beavy from Middle Western points due in part to the break in prices on the Chicago exechange and higher margin requirements by brokerage houses serving that territory. While pools attempted to minimize the effects of an increase of 3166,000,000 in brokers' loans here last week, and succeeded in marking up a few issues to new high levels for the year they had difficulty in attracting an outside following.

M'LARNIN WINS VERDICT IN TAME BOUT WITH MILLER

Almost the Naked Truth

YORK, March 22.—Easter Hero's head must have been hanging when he got back to his stall today after his unsuccessful bid to vin the Grand National Steeplechase, but it should not have been hanging in shame. True, "Jock" Whitney's jumper was a 9 to 1 favorite in a field of 66 and he was beaten by an outsider after leading the big parade over most of the line of march. But there was nothing in his defeat to develop an inferiority complex or to cause him to reject his vesperal ration of oats on the ground that he had not earned them. He had given all he had, which must have been considerable, in toting the top weight of 175 pounds over a crue course which only 8 of the 66 which started were able to negotiate.

started were able to negotiate.
So hazardous is this famous course that "form" means little in picking a probable winner. As good a way as any of making a selection is to draw one out of a hatful of slips. But Easter Hero, of all the nags in today's race, ran closest to "form." He has class and he proved it. Even with his face bespattered with mud from the heels of an outsider even ranker than usual, he an outsider, even ranker than usual, he gallops into deathless fame to join Alex-ander the Great's Bucephalus, Gen. Phil eridan's Rienzi, Paul Revere's Rural Free Delivery or whatever his name was, Tom Mix's Tony and Barney Google's Spark Plug.

Nats' Outlook Dempsey Signs With Fugazy As Promoter for Two Years, Challenging Garden Group

Dempsey, the big mystery man of pugilism for the past year or more, unmasked today to reveal that his future in boxing will be coupled for two years with the promotional ventures of Humbert J. Fugazy.

The former heavyweight king thus set himself up in the boxing business as a partner of the chief rival of Madison Square Garden, the sport organization his fists helped build for the late Tex Rickard. Dempsey got his first taste of promoting when he staged with William F. Carey, new president of the Garden, the Miami Beach match between Jack Dempsey and Young Stribling.

An indoor arena capa-ble of seating 35,000 will be built here to rival the Garden during the indoor season, Dempsey said. Neither Dempsey, Fugazy, nor Edwin Cole, financial agent who will control the purse strings of a corporation as yet unformed, would discuss the money involved in the deal. It is understood, however, that Dempsey has been guar-anteed a salary of at least $100,000 a year plus a generous percentage of the profits. McLarnin Aggressor, Forcing Foe Into Clinches.

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer). MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, March 22 (A.P.).—Two vaunted lightweight punchers. less as their first meeting was bloody and spectacular.

Where there might have been smashing punches, furious railies, knockdowns and finally a knockout such as McLarnin suffered in their first engagement in Detroit, there was nothing but clinches, frantic scurrying around to evade the lightning that never struck, and the cager sparring of overcautious young business men. What heavy hitting there was McLarnin did for the most part, and he won the defor the most part, and he won the de-cision amid a steady rising storm of booes from 21,000 of the faithful who paid over $111,000 to see the action.

Both Cautious From Start and Slug Only in Close. Irish Jimmy, who has turned in such spectacular performances in other appearances, also won whatever nonor there was in the fray. He mastered Miller thoroughly, but not damagingly, was stung rarely by the blond young-ster's left hook, and beat a tattoo on Ray's head and body, when he could get out of clinches, that had Miller weak and weary at the close.

As frequently happens with punchers of reputations, both lay back from the very start, waiting openings for the heavy artillery.

the very start, waiting openings for the heavy artillery.

Since both are counterpunchers and battle best when the fighting is brought to them, there were few openings and even less action. It seemed a relief to both to lean in close and slug at close quarters out of harm's way in the matter of long shots.

EFFERSON PARK RACE TRACK, March 22. (A.P.).—Over a muddy track and before a crowd estimated at 15.000 persons the Three D's Stable Calf Roper scored in a sensational finish to win the Louisiana Derby here to-day. Panchio, running mate of Calf Roper, finished second, and McGonigle third. The race was worth $15,825, and the mile and a furlong was run in 1:56.
The start was bad. Upset Lad and Minotaur, two of the heavily played favorites, were left at the post.

The winner received for his share of the purse $15,825 and Panchio earned

$2,000, while McGonigle took down $1,000 and Grand Prince got $500. McGonigle Sprints Into Lead

After Delaying Get-away. The race was marred by a bad start and a muddy track. The start in the Derby was perhaps the worst start that Hamilton ever made and half of the field was left. Upset Lad, with J. Burke in the saddle, was left standing and the boy just let the colt pass the stand, then pulled him up on the turn. Minotaur was another one that got away poorly and had no chance. The running of this race was not a true one, and the victory of Caif Roper does not stamp him one of the best colts here. McGonigle, which caused an 8-minute delay by refusing to line up at the bar-rier, finally got the best of the send-off.

The colt had so much speed that he quickly sprinted to a long lead and appeared to be going very easy, but in the final furlong he showed signs of weakening. Calf Roper and Panchio, closing game-y under hard riding, finally wore down acconigle to gain the purse by a head. Panchio beat McGonigle a head for

Three D Colts | The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime. -By H. T. Webster

March 23, 1929

I hope you will not offer any serious objection to an epistle typed on a cold, undemonstrative machine. I have searched for a pen in the most assiduous and diligent manner and the painful conclusion has been definitely forced upon me that it is non est.

However, I was conscious of an over-powering, all-pervading urge to correspond with you and the temptation proved irresistible. So Ever since I met you at Grace's "brawl", as the ourrent slang has it, I have been in an introspective mood. What, I continually ask myself, has caused this startling metamorphosis in my nature? Up to this time I have been an uncompromising skeptic, cynic and misanthrope. From the earliest period of my adolescence I have viewed life bitterly. Everything appeared so utterly futile, I wanted to get away from it all. Now, by some mysterious alchemy, all this has changed. The baser metals of my nature have been transmuted into gold. Why? Why? Why? I have cerebrated over this most vexatious problem until my medulla oblongata is numb. Mayhap YOU might venture an opinion.

Have I been too bold and candid? Probably For, after all, we scarcely know each other. But, now that I have unburdened myself in this garrulous fashion, won't you please tell me something about yourself? Yes, I am curious. I admit it without equivocation or ambiguity. I am curious about everyone. Frankly, there is nothing I enjoy more than using a scalpel on homo sapiens, uncovering his motivations, his actuating mechanism or, in other words, what makes him tick. It is really a genuinely fascinating study and the inner excitement.

The barrier was sprung at 3:08 p. m., after comparatively little delay. There had been no draw for positions, and the field broke away from the post in two groups and swept down upon the first of Aintree's towering obstacles.

There was a gasp from the crowd as the 66 horses rose to the first jump in a great confusion of silks, glistening bodies and flying hoofs. Then there was a cheer of admiration when it was was a cheer of admiration when it was seen that not a single horse had fallen where the experts had looked for car-nage. But this was too good to last in that welter of struggling men and

Third Jump Takes Toll With Course Strewn With Bodies.

Sir Keith's Fraser's Ardeen went down, spilling his rider amidst the pounding hoofs, just before the second jump. Approaching this second obstacle, Maloney moved up on Easter Hero to take command, and even though the race had just begun there were cries:

"The favorite wins it!"

At the third jump the real carnage began. This obstacle, a rail, ditch and fence, brought down an even dozen horses, strewing the course with bodies. Ballyhan Wood, one of the American entries, moved up to take the lead from Easter Hero, while Billy Barton showed prominently.
"The Americans have it all to themselves," shouted a disgruntled cockney leaning upon the rall at Becher's Brook, that most terrible of Grand National obstacles which the field then was approaching.

YOUR BOY AND

By ARTHUR DEAN, SC. D. The Parent Counselor.

Adopting a Baby. I've been thinking, father, that I'd like to have a baby. I saw the cutest one imaginable downtown today and I could have stolen him. My, but he was cunning as he lay in his baby carriage while his mother was inside the store!" "You would have wished a world of "And we'll trouble on yourself if you had yielded Jones, Junior." to the temptation. Some women who want a baby and can not have one of their own do that very thing. They have kidomania."

"Call it anything you like, but what's the use of living without children? I tell you it isn't natural, and I'm just private school than at a public school

But the wife won. She found that the demand for babies exceeds the sup-ply and that she had to put in an ap-plication and be on the waiting list. This gave her time to think.

"I want," she thought to herself, "a light, curly headed boy who comes from a home where the parents were healthy, clean and intelligent."

She found that advantage.

She found that adopting a baby was the most interesting and serious business or game she had ever attempted. Compared with it, learning golf was a child's picnic.

felt that a woman of 50 didn't possess enough of the spirit of youth to bring up a small child. But finally the agency yielded.
"Say, old girl." said the male of the species when he heard this news, "that's rubbing it in. We've got money to eduqate it and you've got sense, even if you do get yourself psycho-analyzed. "And we'll call him John Jasper Jones. Junior."

Do you think a young child has a

AGITATED PARENT.

Answer—Generally speaking, I believe in the public schools and in such private and parochial schools as do similar work in similar ways. There are, however, an increasing number of so-called "experimental schools," under private management, in which children are given the "newer education," where emphasis is laid upon sense training, reading, health, music, nature study and group play. Such schools are not emphasizing arithmetic, but do are not emphasizing arithmetic, but do emphasize the very things you criticize as not belonging to the public school.

RAYON STRIKE ENDS

5,500 Tennessee Workers Are Affected; To Resume Operations Slowly.

UNION NOT RECOGNIZED

Elizabethton, Tehn., March 22 (A.P.) The ten days' strike of employes of the American Glanzstoff Corporation, rayon plant, one of the largest in the history of the new industrial South, was ended today. All together 5,500 workers in the Glanzstoff plant and that of the American Bemberg Corporation, under the same management, which also suspended, were affected. By the terms of an agreement adopted this afternoon, a portion of the general wage increase sought by the strikers is granted, and while the textile workers' union local that was formed was not recognized, it was agreed there is to be no discrimination against it.

About 800 girls at the Glanzstoff About 800 girls at the Glantzston plant started the strike with a demand for higher-wages, and the concern suspended operations subsequently because of picketing, and to protect its workers, the Bemberg plant was closed, although it resumed on a limited scale with a large force of deputy sheriffs on guard duty. on guard duty.

Change in Investment Habits Seeni In a study and analysis of the bond market, Moody's sees something more than a temporary change in the ganeral position of bonds as investments. It takes the view that although the present obscurity of the bond market behind a brilliant stock market is exaggerated, nevertheless there is also going on a fundamental change in investment habits in the United States—a switch from the ingrained habit of buying bonds to one of buying stocks. To support this contentien the history of investment customs in this country is compared with that in other mature investing nations, most of which have never had a bond market similar to our own. Moody's believes that the change will tend toward sta-bilizing conditions; making the bond market much more of a "gilt-endge" market in the long run.

Hesse Administration Is Praised by Capper

Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, retiring superintendent of police, "gave the City of Washington a clean and honest administration." That was the verdict expressed by Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, chairman of the Senate District committee, in s letter to the police chief made public yesterday.

Senator Capper wrote to Maj. Hesse when he learned through newspaper stories that Hesse had resigned as superintendent of police. He was perfectly willing, the sentor added, to have his opinion made known to the city. "I have always had faith in you,"

Capper said. "I believe you gave the City of Washington a clean and honest administration. I wish you success in all your future efforts." Real Estate Restriction Target. W. H. Lewis, member of the legisla tive advisory council, in submitting a report of the committee on education referred to the desirability of calling attention of Congress to action of real estate interests in withdrawal of a proposed colored health school site from the Bladensburg road district. These interests, he stated, sold prop-erty to the Board of Education and afterward opposed its use for a colored school. This policy, if continued, he pointed out, would prove disadvantageous to taxpayers.

He was directed to appear before the Board of Education at a special meeting April 17 to present the needs of all civic bodies of the federation. Board of Education at a special meeting April 17 to present the needs of all civic bodies of the federation.

Persons close to the President believe that the appointment of Col. Hodges at aid signalizes the departure from the time honored custom whereby the military sids have had a practical amecure. The officer, on a recent visit to Washington, is understood to have declared he would not be interested in the assignment unless there was work attached to the job. It also is understood that he was given assurances that the detail would be a working job.

While there is no definite announcement to that effect, it is believed Col. Hodges will spend most of his time at the White House, that, in effect, he will be a military secretary to the President, and that he will be the President's spokesman or interpreter in dealing with Spanish-speaking dignitaries, and that he will assist the Chief Executive in matters pertain Latin-American relations and

Six Persons Liberated In Improper Rum Raids

Deciding liquor cases against aix colored persons had been improperly handled by police. Assistant District Attorneys R. F. Camiller and David A. Hart yesterday refused to prefer charges against them at Police Court.

The police employed informers in virtually all of the cases and in the majority of instances failed to properly, "cover" the informers when they entered houses bent on making purchases of liquor. The half dozen liberated were Anna Gregg, 29 years old; Philip P. Davis, 28; Susie Boyd, 30; George Mason, 24; Mary Branhan, 37, and Walter Lucas, 20. They were arrested in raids Thursday night by police of the Eighth Precinct.
